

I love XM radio, living in North Dakota it's hard to keep up with the culture in the world. Some would say we are a little behind. I enjoy hearing weather and traffic reports from around the country, it's interesting. Isn't it better for everyone to listen to the radio rather than watch television, at least that's what we've been told all these years. I pay to listen to satellite radio, I think that I should have an opinion on what I want to hear. Isn't this America?
